Anniversary Banquet Of Bellevue Lodge

The first anniversary banquet of Bellevue Lodge 118 of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, was given in the Workers' hall at Bellevue on Friday night last, and in spite of very inclement weather was an unqualified success in every particular.

Upwards of 120 ladies and gentlemen were present. The catering was done by Mrs. Hawthorne, the popular proprietress of the Bellevue Home Bakery, and the dainty materials provided for the relief of the anxieties of the "inner man" as well as the work of the capable staff of attendants left nothing to be desired.

After luncheon, C. R. Ritchie, as toastmaster, called upon Rev. F. T. Cook to propose "The King" which was followed by the singing of the National Anthem.

Other toasts in order were as follows:

"Oddfellowship" — Proposer, J. F. Hunter; Respondent, F. W. Doust.

"The Lodge" — Proposer, W. J. Bartlett; Respondent, Allan Hamilton.

"The Ladies" — Proposer, Herbert Barnes; Respondent, W. P. Williams.

The social programme included several songs by Mr. W. Shaw, a pianoforte duet by Mr. and Mrs. H. Barless, and "Down on The Farm" by David Hutton, all of which were well rendered and received.

Dancing followed until well on into the morning.

The committee in charge must be congratulated upon the success attending their effort.

Bellevue Lodge was instituted on October 1st, 1914, with a membership of 72. Four months after its institution, the lodge had two legally qualified representatives attending the session of the Grand Lodge of Alberta at Edmonton. Today the Lodge has a total membership of about 125 and is continually adding to its numbers. Bellevue Lodge can proudly challenge the formal organization of the universe to beat this record; that at the age of one year they have 125 members, and are represented in the Empire's fighting lines by over 25%.

Stock Inspection

The new Stock Inspection Act requires that when live stock is offered for shipment to a point outside of the Province, the same must be inspected for brands, and the shipper must either own the brand that is on the animals or he must have a memorandum of sale signed by such owner. If the animal is unbranded, the seller must state in his memorandum how he acquired the animal that is offered for shipment.

All animals sold at a sale yard or sale or exchange stable, stock yard or abattoir must be inspected before payment therefor is made, as must also animals sold on a farm or at the private stables of the seller, unless they have been on the premises for at least thirty days.

If a farmer raises a horse or a cow and sells it at the farm, no inspection is required. If he brings it into town and sells it, it must then be inspected because it has not been on the premises where sold for thirty days.

If a resident in a Town or City owns a horse and keeps it in his own private stable, he may, if he has owned it for more than thirty days, sell it without inspection. If he keeps it in a livery and sale stable, or if he takes the animal there to be sold, it must be inspected for brands, the proof of ownership must be established before it can be taken away or payment therefor accepted.

Blairmore Red Cross

Members will please note that yearly dues are now payable. It is especially requested that these come in before October 14th, as the yearly report is then made up and the list of members included therein. New members, or those desiring to pay the yearly dues can hand the same to Mrs. Carter or Mrs. J. R. Smith.

The Secretary acknowledges with thanks a donation of $31.75 in cash from the staff of the West Canadian Collieries. The amount will be paid monthly and will greatly aid the society in carrying on the work.

The Sage of Ponoka Favors Church Union

With this religious enthusiasm that is being worked up—union, disunion, twenty or thirty different denominations in one midst—it keeps thoughtful people guessing as to what is the proper plank on which to tread in order that we may reach the everlasting haven. Searching for light on the matter, we turned to the Book of Books, and was much struck with the account of the life of Moses as being especially applicable to our time. If the reader would turn to Exodus VI to X, some contrast might be found therein. In this, at all events, we can find common cause for union—let us all pray that we be saved from the plagues.—Ponoka Herald.

An Atlantic salmon, liberated two years ago by the Department of Marine and Fisheries and tagged for the purpose of gaining information with regard to the frequency of spawning, was captured recently by a salmon fisherman near North Sydney. When liberated the fish weighed 10 pounds and was 24 inches long. When captured it weighed 184 pounds, measured 33 1/2 inches and girthed 21 1/2 inches.

Twenty years ago, an American had luncheon at the Red Cow Temperance Hotel, Chelmsford, G. B., and left before paying his bill. Last week he wrote to a firm of solicitors in Chelmsford and enclosed a letter instructing them to pay for the meal. The original proprietors of the hotel cannot be traced and the money has been placed in a collecting box for waifs and strays.

The Second Year Of The War

We are now well into the second year of the war, and the end seems as far off as ever. No one imagined, a year ago, that by October, 1915, Canada would have sent across the Atlantic nearly 100,000 men, with as many more to follow if necessary. The war may yet last a long time. We can permit no "stale mate," no truce that means returning to the relative positions occupied before the war. That would only mean that all of the belligerents would at once commence preparations for another and a greater conflict, and that the children for whose heritage we are fighting today, would, in turn, themselves be called upon to lay down their lives in the next generation.

What the Prime Minister of England said last autumn is as true today as it ever was. This war cannot end until Belgium has been restored to all that she lost and more; until France has been given boundaries that can be protected against the menace of invasion; until the rights of the little nations of Europe to live has been unquestionably established and until Prussianism has been completely crushed. To accomplish these things will require enormous sacrifices. Lord Kitchener says the war can only be ended by trained men. "Men, more men, and yet more men."

The issue today depends upon Britain and the British Empire. We alone, have the reserves that permit of the creation of the preponderant army. The Germans before the war made many predictions. In respect of France and Russia, they were not far astray, but they wholly underestimated the power of the British Empire. The overseas dominions which were contemptuously referred to as a negligible quantity, will probably furnish 300,000 men or more before the end of the year and a large proportion of these will consist of the contingents from Canada.

It is the duty of the Canadian government to arm, train, equip and maintain its expeditionary force. The money for this purpose is raised by tax on equally distributed on the people of Canada. The task of providing for the wives and children of the men who go to the front, however, has been entirely assumed by the generous public, on the ground that he cannot fight should pay.

For this end was inaugurated the Canadian Patriotic Fund. With the month of September, this organization enters upon the work of its second year. On that date about 20,000 families were on its list of beneficiaries, and it required over $75,000 per month to meet their needs. Although in the early months of the war, subscriptions to the Fund were in excess of the demands made upon it, and a considerable surplus accrued, this may these reserves have been, subject to an ever-increasing drain. During June, July and August, the deficit amounted to $400,000. If the war continues for another year then will be required during that period not less than five million dollars to care for those entrusted to our care. To be sure, we have no written contract with the soldier that we will continue to provide for his wife and children, but he has gone to the front with implicit faith that we will not repudiate our obligation, and this pledge must not be broken.

Since the outbreak of war, new fields of activity, beyond those originally contemplated, have been opened up. Not only does the Fund care for the wives of British and Canadian soldiers, but also for those of the Allies; Belgian, French, Italian, Russian. All these nations have had reason to feel that Canada recognizes the bond of a common brotherhood in this terrible struggle.

Moreover, the Patriotic Fund has taken the convalescent soldier under its care. That is, when he has a family dependent upon him. A representative of the Fund meets every returned soldier at Quebec, learns of his history and condition, passes him on to the Secretary of the Branch in the town to which he is going, and on his arrival there, the local committee stands by the family until the convalescent is restored to health, and employment for him is secured.

When, a year ago, the Fund made its first appeal to the public, it was on behalf of an idea, and everybody admitted that the duty for caring for the soldiers' dependents was one that could not be overlooked. Today, the Fund appears on a record. For twelve months its directors have endeavored, as trustees of the people of Canada, to administer the monies so freely given. The Fund now appeals to the public for money to enable it to work to be continued along well tried and established lines.

Bellevue Happenings

Mrs. A. Burey was visiting in Fernie this week.

Mrs. James Couzens was a Fernie visitor this week.

Cliff Miller is down from Calgary visiting his mother for a few days.

Jack Wilson is down from Sarcee for a few days visiting his family.

The home guards' band will hold their first practice on Friday, the 15th, at 7 p.m.

A number of the Bellevueites took in the Red Cross dance at Cowley on Friday night.

There was quite a turnout at the L.O.O.F. banquet on Friday night last, and all report a good time.

Mrs. J. D. McDonald, who had been visiting her home in Westville, N.S., returned home on Sunday, looking well after the trip.

Mrs. John Dan McDonald, who has been in Pictou County for the past two months, returned to her home at Bellevue, Alberta, on Tuesday.—Westville Free Lance.

George Taggart, who has enlisted with the 82nd at Calgary, is well known in Bellevue, having been in the employ of the West Canadian Collieries Co. here for years.

We have on our exchange list a magazine which is published somewhere in the United States in the interest of animals. It contains many interesting stories, but says nothing of the policeman who early in July arrested a boy from a riverside because he had not a fishing licence. The boy was but twelve years of age and for years had not been enjoying the best of health. At the time of his arrest he was seized with an epileptic fit, which the clever (?) policeman diagnosed as "a piece of mockery." Despite the ailing of the child he was grabbed and conveyed to his house. His mother was shocked to see the little INNOCENT led in the custody of a police officer, and pleaded for the child's release. Harpledings were of no avail, however, and because she failed to show up the necessary bail money the boy was taken before the J. P., and a fine of over five dollars was imposed. The boy was taken back to his home, still in custody, and his parents were advised of kind (?) treatment handed out by the court, and told that unless they could put up the money the boy would be sent down immediately to serve a term of imprisonment. It took every cent the parents had to pay the fine and costs, and the boy has since been in such a deranged condition that the parents or physicians entertain no hopes for his complete recovery. We have heard of all kinds of savagery practiced in the olden days, but this certainly beats it for modern times. We challenge any law authority to show that, in the first place, the police was justified in interfering with a boy of such minor years, who could probably stay by the river for years and not harm a fish; secondly, that the police was justified in demanding that a boy of such years should buy a fishing licence; thirdly, that the jurisdiction could be considered competent to act on such a case; and fourthly, that the case should be tried without giving the parents a chance to appear and defend. Another story has failed to find a place in the columns of that magnificent journal. It is the case which occurred recently, when a man was arrested and fined for being a victim to one of the complaints to which human kind are all subject. In this case the victim committed NO offense, and it is utterly impossible for the authorities to establish proof that a WILFUL BRACH of our laws was committed. Such cases as these are attracting the attention of law-abiding and respectable citizens, and if continued will result in serious trouble for some of those who are supposed to assist in the preservation of peace.

Death of Widow Of John Drewery

The death is announced of Mrs. Glorianna Climie, widow of the late John Burnham Drewery. Her demise took place Wednesday, at Glen Ranch, near Cowley. She was 79 years of age, and a daughter of the late Rev. John Climie, Congregational minister and publisher of the Bowmanville, Ont. Statesman.

The deceased leaves to mourn her loss Miss Mary B., only daughter, and Andrew J., both of whom reside at the ranch; William S., of Victoria, B.C., and George B., of Juneau, Alaska.

The late J. C. Drewery, the well-known stockman, who died on December 28 of last year, was a son. Mrs. Drewery is also survived by two sisters: Miss E. D. Climie, of Bowmanville, Ont., and Mrs. Thomas Tumblyn of Bull River, B.C., and a brother, J. D. Climie, of Hamilton, Ont.

The remains were taken to Bowmanville for interment.

TEN YEARS AGO

(From The Blaimore Times, 1905)

July 8—The Frank Coal Co. are contemplating carrying their own mine supplies, and are erecting a large storehouse for that purpose.

On Tuesday Andrew Sunstrom left for Calgary.

R. T. Lowery, editor of the Fernie Ledger, was a visitor in town yesterday.

Work has been resumed on the main building at the Frank smelter.

W. A. Beebe has had a neat picket fence erected around his property on Twelfth Avenue.

Dr. Bruce, dentist, will make his regular visit to Blaimore this week.

R. S. Lyon, late of Winnipeg, is the new man behind the counter at the Western Mercantile store here.

A slope is being sunk in the main entry at the Frank mine to the old lower entry, which is to be driven ahead as an air course.

The Coleman Aerie of Eagles were organized and held their first regular lodge meeting on Monday night, the 17th. Officers: W.P.P., Steve Monahan; W. P., George Brodie; W.V.P., Joseph Hardman; W.G.C., A. Klingsmeier; W.S.D., J. McIntyre; W.T., J. H. Dickson; W.C.H., R. R. Lure; L.S., W. Reid; O.G., D. L. Stauffer.

Methodist church services will be held tomorrow in Coleman and Blaimore by Rev. J. B. Francis.

President A. C. Flimmerfelt, of the International Coal Co., and S. C. H. Miner, who is also largely interested in that company, were the guests of General Manager Galt, at Coleman, the first of the week.

Geo. A. Jackson, formerly local manager of the P. Burns & Co. here, but now in charge of the meat contract for that firm on the new Corbin road into Spokane, spent a few days here this week with his family.

During the week the route of the trail by Lyon Creek to the South Fork has been gone over and found to not only be by far the shortest route, but also that the grades obtainable are first-class.

Miss Jennie McLeod has been awarded a handsome book by Mr. Harris, the teacher, for having obtained the highest number of marks of any of the scholars of the Blaimore school.

The business men of Frank have dropped, for the present at least, the idea of building a pack trail to the South Fork, to connect with the trail to the Flathead outfields.

H. E. Lyon, Blaimore's all-around sports took part in several of the athletic contests in "Mackled." Although Harry failed to land any of the first prizes, he made the other fellows get right down and hustle.

Wednesday evening some miscreant entered the garden of Mar On, near town, and removed over 700 growing cabbage.

July 15—Work has been started on the new hotel at Little.

A. F. Grady, of Macleod, visited his stores in The Pass during the week.

A 150-pound 24-inch bell has been ordered for the school here.

BORN—In Blaimore, on July 10, to

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Sparks, a son.

Felix Montalbetti has lately been nursing a badly sprained back.
